ALMA MATER

Onward, Alma Mater!
Hear our praise as we,
Proud to be thy children
Pledge ourselves to thee.

From thy deep foundations
Duty, honor, calls;
Deep lies inspiration
Bound within thy walls.

With thy strength availing
Through the years to be,
Firm and never failing
Stands our faith in thee.

Onward, Alma Mater!
Hear our praise as we,
Proud to be thy children
Pledge ourselves to thee.

We Dedicate This Ivy

To Mrs. Jane Stephan

Teacher, advisor, and friend – all these words can be applied to you, Mrs. Stephan. Each year we appreciated your help a little more, and now we realize that we could not have completed our high school years so successfully if it had not been for you. In our Freshman year we were just a group of young girls, not knowing what we wanted or how to face the new responsibility of being in Upper School. You helped to mold us into a class, and without your help we would not have had a design for our class pin. You held us "down" when we became "those rowdy Sophomores", guiding us over the bumps and bruises of growing up, and making sure that our Prom was the most beautifully decorated dance of the year. Throughout our Junior year, it was you who kept us on the right path – checking some of our plans, buoying our spirits through the long wait for College Board scores, and helping us both spiritually and socially. But it was not until we became Seniors that we realized your true worth to us. What would we have done without your help in solving our problems, both academic and social? To whom could we have turned in that trying year, if it had not been for you? Who else could have guided us so skillfully and so well? So, it is with heartfelt thanks for your understanding, encouragement, and guidance that we dedicate our yearbook to you, Mrs. Stephan.

Mrs. Elsie F. Flounders

Principal

To the Members of the Class of 1958:

Education can be readily compared to automotive engines. It comes in various sizes, shapes and degrees of complexity to meet the needs of a wide range of consumer requirements. Basic to all education, as the internal combustion engine is to motorized equipment, are the fundamental skills of reading, writing and arithmetic. The two-cylinder engine which supplies the power for a farm tractor is as simple as a fourth grade reader and as uncomplicated as short division. This engine, precise in all of its simplicity, when used intelligently, will enable the farmer to perform the essential operations of his work and will provide mobility from one point to another, without much comfort or eclat. So will the mastery of the fourth grade curriculum provide the essential mental tools to read the headlines in the newspaper, write out a grocery list, and add up the week's expenses. But it will not offer much in the way of intellectual enjoyment, aesthetic appreciation, or equip one to attack life's more complicated problems. Just as the Mark II and the Eld rado are powered by engines, governed by the same scientific principles as that of the lowly tractor, but yet almost unrecognizable because of their complexity and refinements, so the highly educated man or woman, in the scope, depth and application of his knowledge, differs from the unskilled laborer.

Moreover, as science is always striving to improve the power output and performance of the gasoline engine, so the educated man is always seeking to widen his mental horizon and to probe more deeply into the still unsolved problems of the universe. Neither science nor the intellect can afford to be static or satisfied with its present state of development.

Education does not end with the secondary school or with the university. It goes on in thoughtful human beings until death snuffs out the light of the intellect. As you start out on the next leg of your educational journey, you are each equipped with the basic components of your engine – a well-tempered engine block, precision-ground pistons and rings, and a carburator of almost limitless potential. Whether you develop it into the power plant for a work-a-day jeep or a sleek, exciting Jaquar depends entirely upon you.

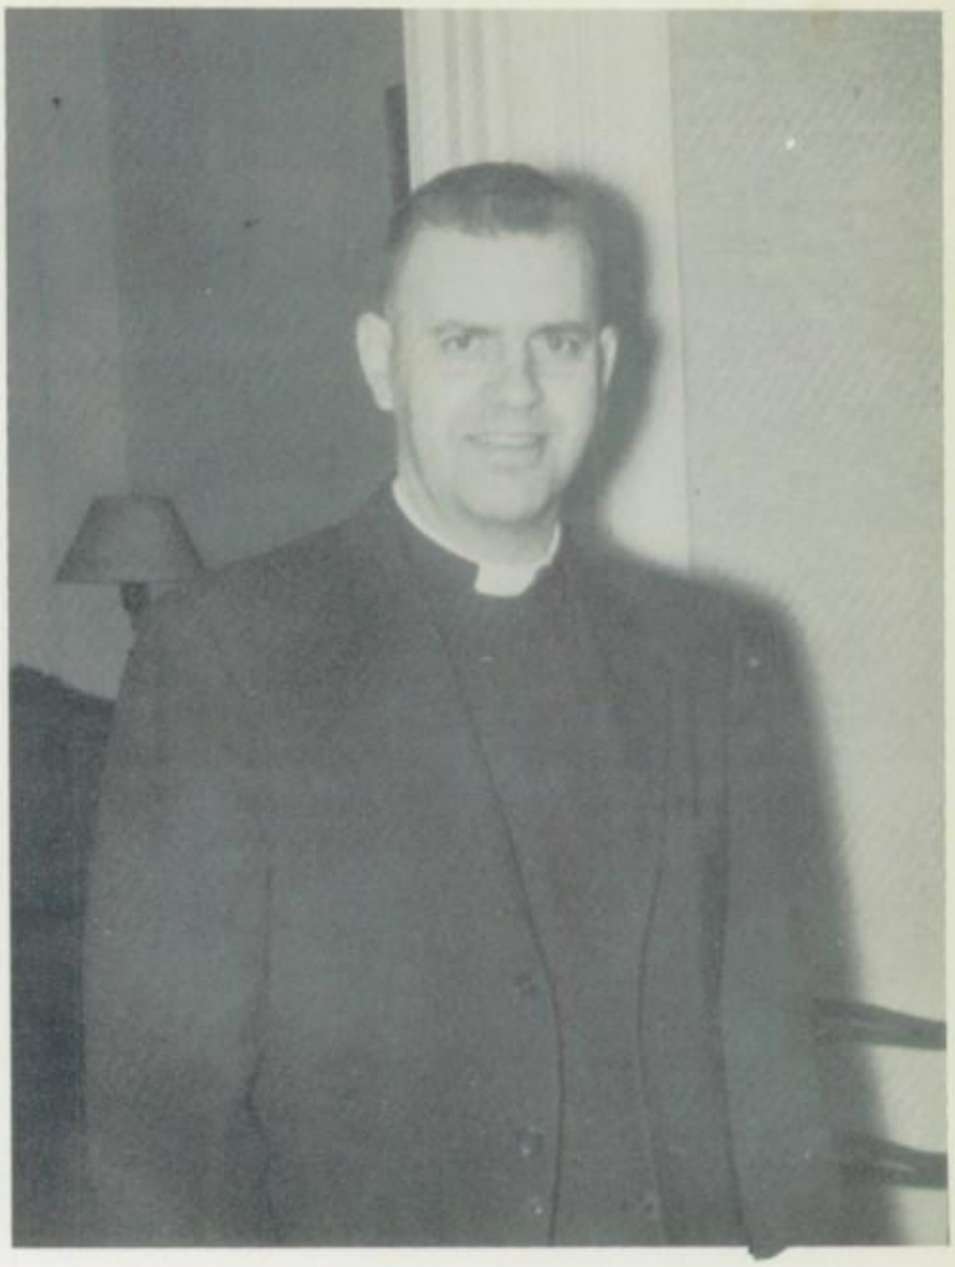
The Rev. Randall J. Conklin

Chaplain



Though Father Conklin has only been at St. Mary's for two years, he has given us the precious gifts of faith and laughter. In the Chapel and the classroom he has dispelled our adolescent religious doubts and explained away our foolish fears. He has taught us to laugh at ourselves and to lead a better way of life through faith and love.

Father Conklin has quickly become an integral part of the school. His subtle humor and unselfish help will never be forgotten. When in the future we look back on our years at St. Mary's, Father Conklin will be remembered for his calmness and faith.

Miss Frances Taylor

Dean

Varied emotions and thoughts fill our minds when we think of Miss Taylor. To all of us who have ever met her, she is a wonderful person. In her classes she is a patient teacher, gently drawing out the best in all of us. In our free time she is a welcome friend, helping us with our problems or chatting with us pleasantly.

Throughout her twenty seven years at St. Mary's Hall she has so upheld and preserved the ideals and traditions of the school that she is St. Mary's. We cannot think of St. Mary's without her. As teacher, friend, or Dean, she has steadily guided us through our turbulent pre-college years, having us for ever in her debt.

JUNIORS

Katie Ann Hutton, Student Council Representative for the Junior Class, has aided us in keeping up school rules and spirit.

Returning to S.M.H. last September, we found two former members of our class and two new girls had been added to our number. Linda Fink and Mac Habermehl had returned and Barbara Nelson and Lesley Levin were the new students.

At Christmas time, many of our class joined the Mystery cast. Katie Hutton was a King and Mary Jenness was Gabriel. Shepherds included Linda Fink, Anne Cramer, and Frances Mulford. In the angel choir were Barbara Ward, Joan Wright, and Karen Fischer. Later, at the Christmas dinner, huge, prancing reindeer pulled a jovial Santa Claus across the back of the dining-room, thanks to the artistic talents of Linda Fink. Also, at the dinner, the citizenship award was received by Katie Hutton.

The weekend after Midyears, five Juniors represented St. Mary's Hall at Buck Hill, Barbara Ward, Karen Fischer, Frances Mulford, Katie Hutton and Mary Jenness. They related their experiences in the next assembly program.

March was a busy month. College Boards were more important than ever and for the first time, Juniors took the afternoon achievement tests.

As is the custom, we furnished the supper on Sports Day in May. In June we proudly presented our new green banner in the dining-room. On Class Day we donned our caps and gowns for the first time and later, at the dinner we admired and displayed our new rings. So excitedly, if not a trifle sadly, we bid a final farewell to our Junior year.

Throughout the past year, the Juniors participated actively in many areas of school activity. Barbara Budd, who came to S.M.H. in the second grade, was our Crucifer. Mary Jenness, Beth Davis, and Susan Probasco headed the Service League. Katie Hutton and Susan Probasco were elected Glee Club officers. Katie Hutton, Joan Wright, and Mary Jenness were members of the newly formed octette. Hard working Ivy Leaves editors, Mary Jenness, Susan Probasco, Beth Davis, and Mac Habermehl found plenty of support from their classmates. Busy Susan Probasco was also elected President of Odd Moments. All of us were proud when Beth's creative ability was recognized by the National Anthology of School Poetry. Many of our more athletic members "made" the hockey and basketball teams. Mac and Frances were co-captains of the Blue and White teams respectively. Members of the Inner Circle included Mary Jenness, Katie Hutton, Fran Mulford, Beth Davis and Susan Probasco.

SOPHOMORES

Mrs. Knoll, giving instructions to the officers of her class. E. J. Stockton, Secretary, Brenda Butz, Treasurer, Cynthia Cohen, Council Representative, and Barbara Lefferts, Vice-President.

Hedl Decker, Sophomore Class President.

Our Sophomore year began with much enthusiasm and school spirit. We welcomed three girls to our class, Penny Reggie, Dottie Benninghoff, and Janet Voorhies.

Barbara Lefferts, Hedl Decker, and Betsy Fineburg became members of Inner Circle. The Sophomores were well represented in every club in school.

It took almost the entire year to plan our Sophomore Prom, "The Twelfth of Never" on the 12th of April. We succeeded in combining our ideas of fantasy into a romantic mood.

Other projects that we carried through were cake sales, parties for our sister class and a Dinner Dance for B.M.I. This was indeed a full and rewarding year.

Four geography-minded Sophomores, Kathy Bodwell, Kathy Kudra, Peggy Forsyth, and Janet Voorhies. Though they usually are the belles at the school dances, here they are checking some unknown (to them) parts of the world for a history test.

Jan Colvin and Penny Reggie, watching the intricacies of playing St. Mary's Hall organ as Carole Geren practices. Carole has been a regular organist this year taking turns with Marty Dwier. To their music the school loves to sing.

Betsy Fineburg, our star athlete, grins while Ginny MacPherson and Dottie Benninghoff chat with Sue Henry. Betsy is a member of Inner Circle. Sue and Ginny are reporters on Ivy Leaves. Dottie, a new student this year, was the first girl in the Class of 1960 to have her story read at the Christmas Dinner!

FRESHMEN

Cynthia Bonnet, President of the Freshmen, has guided the class constructively through an active year.

Four new girls, Linda Whinney, Elizabeth Dorsett, Jean Scott, and Diane Bethel joined the Freshmen Class making a total of sixteen girls. Miss Cathell became our capable class advisor.

We made and sold variously colored octopuses and aprons and held several cake sales to establish a class treasury. In May we gave a semi-formal dance for the Upper School.

This year Joan Gale and Ann Bond made the Varsity Team in hockey. Alice Collins, Ginny Booth, Joan Gale, and Ann Bond made the basketball teams.

Miss Cathell, Freshmen advisor and English teacher, clarifying a rule in grammar to Ann Bond, Sandra Stackhouse, Joan Gale and Alice Collins. Lucky girls!

Linda Davies, Betsy Seigrist, and Susan Youngs ready to leave school after another busy day. Linda is a member of Chorus and Sports Club. Betsy played on Junior Varsity Hockey Team and is active in Drama Club and Chorus. Susan belongs to Sports Club and Chorus.

Diane Wilson, Susan Kahn, Betsy Seigrist and Elaine Elliott, "trying-out" in Drama Club for the Spring Operetta, "Little Women". They will be in the Chorus. Diane, Susan and Elaine have served on the stage crew committee this year. Betsy has been a member of the costume committee. Though they served behind the scenes, they helped to make the productions a success.

Linda Whinney, Elizabeth Dorsett, Diane Bethel, and Ginny Booth, waiting to enter Chapel. As Freshmen, they add their sweet voices to the hymns and their lovely presence to the chapel line.

SEVENTH GRADE

Miss Lynch, making a point in science to a group in our class – Tom Rossetti, Arthur Liese, Pam Budd, Monica Goggins, Aileen Howe, Cheryl Stover, Jeanette Smith, Van Rea, and Stuart Newberry. There might be a future Einstein in this group. We know for sure we have a future famous violin virtuoso – Tom Rossetti.

After we became members of the Upper School last Fall, we elected Pamela Budd President, Cheryl Stover, Vice President, Jeanette Smith, Secretary, and Stuart Newberry, Treasurer. Monica Goggins and Tom Rossetti represented our class in Council and Arthur Liese served as Treasurer.

The "high light" of our year was the dancing classes every Friday from 2:30 to 4:30 P.M. under the instruction of Mrs. Test and Mrs. Sharp. B.M.I. Middle School students and our boys were our partners. The "Big Night" was a final dancing class in the dining room from 8P.M. to 11P.M. Then, our last affair was a Middle School Dance with the Eighth Grade on April 25th.

Miss Lynch has been our class advisor. To her we are indebted for the help and guidance we needed. We are now looking forward to being the upper class in the Middle School next year.

Here we are – the rest of the class – Clyde Carabelli, Mary Hemings, Al Litz, Joanne Fuller, Glenn Wright, Ibby Stratton, Karen Black and Karen Warner. Karen Warner has just joined us, after attending school in France. Welcome to St. Mary's!

EIGHTH GRADE

Caroline Howell, Barbara Zeltmacher, Sue Lippincott, Barbara Wood, Jay Lapin, Sue Mulford, Noreen Hunter in the Eighth Grade room with our Eighth Grade Advisor, Mrs. Frances Mulford, an old friend indeed, since she had been our beloved Sixth Grade teacher.

This year we greeted four new classmates, Vicki Walters, Laura Potter, Barbara Zeltmacher, and Francine Kantor, making our total five boys and eleven girls. We elected Jay Lapin President, Noreen Hunter, Vice-President, Caroline Howell, Secretary, and Francine Kantor, Treasurer. Our two Student Council representatives were Ashby Sholl and Barbara Wood. Susan Lippincott served as President and Susan Mulford as Treasurer.

During the first semester we attended Dancing Class with our boys and B.M.I. We held a special Dance after the classes were over. April 22nd we enjoyed our Middle School Dance and this summer we are planning a picnic and swimming party.

The eighth grade boys are saying adieux this June. Jay Lapin is going to Peddie, Mike Moll to B.M.I., Ashby Sholl to Westtown Friends, John Bond to St. Andrew's, and Thomas Van Horn to Allentown High School.

We, the girls are looking forward to the challenges and opportunities that the Upper School will present to us next year.

John Bond, Tom Van Horn, Harriet Sypeck, Mike Moll, Gail Silverstein, Laura Potter, Freia Koschke, and Vicki Walters – a happy group showing that as the first class that had boys in the eighth grade, we had an extremely satisfying year socially and academically. Academically? We had the longest list on the Honor Roll. Socially? We say – A BIG SUCCESS!

SISTER CLASS

Mrs. Stephan, the Seniors' advisor, trying to dunk for an apple.

Nancy Rossell and Penny Reggie enjoying themselves immensely.

For many years there has existed a close bond of comradeship between the Freshmen and Juniors and the Sophomores and Seniors. These classes are called Sister Classes. We certainly have been proud and happy to have the present Sophomores for our Sister Class. Through both our Junior and Senior years, they have been loyal supporters and good friends. When we look over these pages we shall remember with fondness the many class get-togethers we shared. Especially, will we remember this one, a party full of action given by the Sophomores.

Success!! Marty Dwier, Connie Michaels, and Betsy Fineburg.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Two guests being served refreshments by Marty Dwier, President, at the first informal Student Council Dance, a Hallowe'en party, October 26, 1957. An evening of fun, dancing, and food helped all the new girls to feel more at home at St. Mary's.

Student Council is at the core of the Student-Faculty Association and has always held a position of great importance among the various organizations here at St. Mary's Hall. Student Council consists of the President, Secretary, Treasurer, Chairman of Service League and four class representatives. There are also three faculty representatives on Council, including our principal, Mrs. Flounders. Student Council is the student's organization. In Student Council meetings the students' problems and suggestions are brought up and discussed. Therefore, Student Council is a bridge between the student and administration. The main aim of Student Council for many years has been to establish in the student body a co-operative, responsible, and friendly attitude in all relationships.

STUDENT COUNCIL PROJECTS

This year Student Council has been very active and has inaugurated many new activities. As has been the custom in previous years, a luncheon and Orientation Day was held the day before school opened so the new girls could become acquainted with the faculty, the other students, and the code of behavior at St. Mary's. This was sponsored by the Student Council who had assigned Big Sisters to all the new girls.

In October Council invited the Upper School girls to Tea in order to promote closer interclass relationship. In December the Lower School faculty were invited to a luncheon to become acquainted with the Upper School girls. In October Council held a Hallowe'en Dance in the dining room. Later, it took charge of a dinner dance with Blair Academy.

In February the Council members attended a Human Relations Conference at Burlington High School. They met many of the foreign exchange students. In March several girls attended the Workshop (originated at St. Mary's) with Mrs. Flounders. Here again they were able to exchange ideas with the other private schools in this area. In March a new project was undertaken. The Council sponsored the first FATHER-DAUGHTER dinner. This proved to be so successful that it will probably become another St. Mary's custom.

SERVICE LEAGUE

Mary Jenness, Service League Chairman, who co-ordinates the sub-committee.

Everyone at St. Mary's Hall from the ninth to the twelfth grades is a member of the Service League. Three committees – Devotional Life, World Outlook, and Community Life – are branches of the Service League.

Although this activity was more active during the years St. Mary's was a boarding school, nevertheless, it is still a definite and necessary part of our school life. Headed by Mary Jenness, Susan Probasco, Beth Davis, and Nancy Gray, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Stephan, Miss Taylor and Miss Cowperthwaite, the Service League was unusually active this year.

As a World Outlook project, the Service League sponsored a clothing drive to aid our foster child, Anna Ferarra, and her family. At Thanksgiving, we collected over two hundred cans of food which we distributed to several needy families in Burlington. Throughout the year, volunteers helped the Devotional Life Committee keep the Chapel in good order and occasionally Devotional Life members conducted chapel services.

Beth Davis, Vice Chairman of the World Outlook Committee, reading a letter from Anna Ferrara, our foster child in Italy.

IVY LEAVES

Miss Cathell, sponsor of Ivy Leaves, discussing and planning a new issue of Ivy Leaves with the Editor, Mary Jenness, and Assistant Editors, Beth Davis and Sue Probasco. They are going to publish their first printed paper.

Mary Jenness, Editor, giving assignments to the IVY LEAVES reporters, E. J. Stockton, Ginny MacPherson and Lesley Levin. Other reporters are Joanne Deitz, Sue Knowles, Ginny Yutz, Marlene Gross, Karen Fischer, Barbara Nelson, Ethel Shein, Penny Reggie, Ann Bond, Alice Collins, and Sue Kahn. Nancy Rossell is the typist.

The Assistant Editors, Mac Habermehl, Margery Cohen, and Cynthia Cohen, having a meeting with Mimi Doak and Linda Fink, the Staff artists.

Each month an issue of IVY LEAVES, the school newspaer, appears with its many news articles and features. This year, under the guidance of Miss Cathell, there were two printed issues, one of which is pictured on this page. There were many new features this year, such as the gossip column, "Fun and Fact with Jo and Mac", and many interesting forums. Another innovation was the occasional use of two column articles instead of a paper made up completely of articles of one column only. Everyone liked the cartoons and drawings of Mimi Doak and Linda Fink, the art editors. It was always a special event when one of the editors got a by-line. This year the English department published a much improved IVY LEAVES and everyone enjoyed reading it.

ODD MOMENTS

Our budding and successful writers under the direction of Miss Cathell, Katie Hutton, Jan Colvin, Pat Clevenger, Lesley Levin, Sue Probasco, Sue Henry, and Beth Davis.

'Twas Ever Thus

There I was riding down the trail without a care in the world. The sky was beautiful, the trees were changing colors, and my horse was under me – until he started to gallop. There I was, sprawled on the ground like a disjointed octopus. Only a few minutes before, Gabby had been in a trot, then in a canter. Everything had been just fine until he went into a gallop. It was then that I began to fancy myself as a jockey with the crowd cheering me on. I pulled my feet out of the stirrups and moved my hands up his neck. It was wonderful – the great speed and the breeze through my hair. Just then I gazed down to look at the road. That brings me to where I'm lying now.

I don't think any bones are broken; it's my neck that hurts. Now I wonder why I didn't land gracefully. I had fourteen hours of tumbling at camp; you'd think I'd remember something about it! I finally get up enough nerve to pull my head out from under my left leg. Gabby is leering at me with a satisfied expression in his brown eyes. In fact, one might even say that he is gloating. I half expect him to sit down and pull out a carrot. Silently with every adjective at my command I begin to review his ancestry. I am just reaching the best part, the story of the glue factory, when I am interrupted by the arrival of the rest of the riding group, who have just caught up with me.

Oh, I'm ready with several well chosen excuses for my plight, but the look in my teacher's eye speaks more plainly than words. "Come now, Jan. That horse couldn't have thrown you – and, besides, if he did, it was your own fault."

Miss Boswell chose twenty-five girls for a special Tuesday Glee Club. These girls not only had beautiful voices, but also plenty of enthusiasm for singing. The repertoire included a wide range, varying from the "Hallelujah Chorus" by Handel to "Set Down Servant", a modern Negro spiritual.

At the concerts with the Princeton Freshmen, Peddie and Haverford, the Tuesday Glee Club combines with the regular "Thursday Chorus", to make the large ensemble pictured above.

THETA MU PLAYERS

A very serious, yet funny scene from Theta Mu Players' production, "Shubert Alley". Connie Michaels, Sally Garrison, Nancy Gray, Margery Cohen, and Cynthia Johnson sympathetically look on while Peggy Fenimore, as Poppy Nixon, explains her predicament. The outcome of the "predicament" proves to be very explosive!

This period of our lives is one of gaiety and laughter. We are always on the go (life is a merry whirl) eagerly looking for new adventures.

Therefore, it is very necessary to have healthy bodies as well as keen minds; and so each season has its rewards in sports – indoors and out.

For the enthusiastic athlete there are Varsity hockey and basketball teams which dominate the fall and winter seasons. Then for the not so talented girls, there are many minor sports, as softball, tennis, archery and volleyball. St. Mary's varied and lively sports program under the capable supervision of Mrs. Margaret Sharp has helped us to complete a rounded secondary education.

INNER CIRCLE

Smiling Ginny Yutz, President of the Athletic Association, conducts a business meeting in the dining-room. Loving her job, she is working at it constantly.

Katie Ann Hutton, Dottie Bahrenburg, and Beth Davis help Mary Jenness plan an Inner Circle sponsored Bake Sale. Throughout the year Inner Circle has held these sales at lunch in the dining room. Eagerly these confections are bought and eaten by the Upper and Middle School students! Then, Inner Circle buys shields, chevrons and those EXPENSIVE white blazers!

Hedl Decker, Frances Mulford, Betsy Fineburg, and Barbara Lefferts, A.A. members, look over the emblem for Inner Circle members which they designed. The emblem is of white felt with a blue circle and SMH in blue in the center. The emblems will be worn on the gym suits of Inner Circle members so that they will be set apart and have recognition in gym class, intramural games, and other school activities.

HOCKEY

The 1957 hockey season got off to a fast and furious start the first Monday in October. Beautiful October weather gave Mrs. Sharp many good practices before the first game.

Although we lost 4 or 5 Varsity players from last year's Varsity, there were equally good underclassmen to fill their positions.

With Mimi Doak, as its able Captain, the team sailed through the season winning all of its three games, which were with Burlington High School, New Jersey School for the Deaf and Bordentown High School. Ginny Yutz, S.M.H. left inner, took highest honors in scoring, but all the goals were made possible only by the combined efforts of both forward and defensive players.

Long awaited with keen anticipation, the Senior Prom became a reality Saturday evening, December 28, at the Hotel Hildebrecht in Trenton, completely fulfilling all expectations. Sophomores, Juniors, and last year's graduates enjoyed the gala event with the Seniors. Before the Prom, Nancy Gray entertained the Seniors and their escorts at a buffet dinner party; after the dance, Nancy Rossell held Open House for the class.

Mr. Gray, Nancy's father, having finished serving Connie and Norman, is now serving Lester. In the foreground can be seen the Christmas motif.

Marty and Don, being served hors d'ouvres by their hostess, Nancy Gray. Ginny Yutz and Tom, having a tete-a-tete in the background.

Mrs. Stephan "cutting the rug" with her husband.

CLASS HISTORY

Our Freshman year was one of adjustment and great fun. Marty, Margery, and Nancy Rossell joined our class of six. Our big project of the year was to design our red and gold class pins. At Christmas time, Dottie joined the Mystery Cast. Then, in the spring we invited the entire Upper School to an informal dance, famously known as the "Bumble Bee Bounce." Our Freshman year was over all too soon and we went our separate ways for the summer, eagerly awaiting our Sophomore year.

As 'big' sophomores, so we felt, we began the year with three new students, Marlene, Connie and Mimi. We acquired that year a desire to sit on the floor, and every day after lunch, there we were. To make much needed money we sold beautiful blue and white sweatshirts. At a class assembly we staged a spelling bee – a great success. Then, in spring we had our lovely Sophomore Prom. Here we overlooked a few details like having invitations and naming our prom, but nevertheless it was a shining success. This year seemed to go a wee bit faster than the last, and soon we found ourselves almost Juniors.

Now we were Upper Classmen! As members of the Junior Class, Dottie and Ginny shared the traditional honor of carrying the Crucifix in Chapel. This year the talented Juniors 'took to' knitting, everywhere and all the time. We were supposed to have a Junior dance but we added it to our list of "overlooked" details. We did, however, sponsor a delicious hoagie dinner after Color Day, which helped our treasury immensely. In the spring we designed our red and white Class Banner which was to be presented at the Baccalaureate Dinner. Before we knew it, it was time for Commencement activities. Eleven very excited and happy Juniors received their caps and gowns and their much cherished rings. It was hard to believe that we were now Seniors.

Soon September came once more and we, aided by a new member to our class, Pat Clevenger, began our wonderful, memorable year as the Seniors of St. Mary's Hall. Our first order of business was to organize the Yearbook. This year it was to be completely new and different. Throughout the fall we were kept busy filling out college applications. Margery, Connie, and Marlene went on a New England College tour with Mrs. Flounders. It was Christmas again and we had the traditional honor of decorating the Chapel for the Mystery. On December twenty-eighth, we had our Senior Prom at the Hotel Hildebrecht in Trenton, New Jersey. Then in January came the much dreaded College Boards. With these out of the way we realized that it would soon be June and Commencement, when we would pay a fond farewell to our St. Mary's Hall.

WE WERE BEQUEATHED. . . .

and now we leave to you

WILLS

"I, Dorothy Bahrenburg, will my height for basketball to Joan Gale, and to Ginny Booth, I will my ability to break my fingernails before dances."

"I, Pat Clevenger, will my habit of passing out Jamaica Ginger Cookies to the Seniors every lunch period to Ann Cramer."

"I, Margery Cohen, will my laugh to Betsy Fineburg, and my place on the Honor Roll to my sister, Cynthia."

"I, Mimi Doak, will seventeen charge accounts at my future New York and Paris Fashion Salons to the Junior Class."

"I, Marty Dwier, will my green hair to Beth Davis in hope that she will take a hint from my experience."

"I, Nancy Gray, will my beautiful smile to Mrs. Sharp."

"I, Marlene Gross, will my flare for fancy slacks to Mac, and to Mary Jenness, my posture in the tall girl tradition."

"I, Sue Knowles, will my share of leadership in singing in Spanish class to Joanne Deitz."

"I, Connie Michaels, will my candy-eating appetite along with my Senior Store account to Joanne Deitz."

"I, Nancy Rossell, will my exceptional basketball ability to Betsy Seigrist – if she can improve it, she might even made the J.V. To Katie Hutton, I will my delicious chocolate covered rasins, in hope that she may learn to like them."

"I, Mary Jane Seifert, will my ability to get traffic tickets to Mac Habermehl."

"I, Ginny Yutz, will my A's in gym to Betsy Fineburg so she can keep her membership in Inner Circle."

BOOK FAIR

Mrs. Seifert with Mary Jane, Marlene and Nancy Rossell looking for new books at the Fair. Dorothy Bahrenburg and Kathy Kudra also very absorbed by new reading material.

P.T.A. - MEETING

Mr. John R. Valley, of College Board Testing from Princeton, who was our P.T.A. speaker, talking to Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Elizabeth Dorsett and Frances Mulford.

FIELD TRIP to INQUIRER

BLAIR DINNER

BLAIR Academy, our guests at a Dinner Dance, are seen here as they enjoy our good home cooking and our company. Lesley is graciously entertaining one of the boys.

SPELLING BEE

Our annual Spelling Bee conducted by Miss Cathell. The finalists were Barbara Lefferts and Mary Jenness. Mary Jenness was the winner!

HALLOWE'EN

An annual event – the Hallowe'en parade – by the Lower School at Upper School Lunch. Council awarded prizes this year to the winner.
